

Dear Comcast,

It's time to take "Jerseylicious" off the Style Network. Knowing this is on the air has made me and the other citizens from the state of New Jersey incredibly disappointed. Here are the reasons why this train wreck should be stricken from the airwaves, today.

- 1) You're making women from Jersey look like clowns.
- 2) I bet dogs even change the channel when they see this.
- 3) I now believe these people need to have their own state to protect mine.
- 4) I think I've lost IQ points from watching this show.
- 5) I'm considering cutting my own hair so I won't have to put up with these people.
- 6) This show is the closest thing to getting an emergency root canal.
- 7) You've misappropriated the word drama. Here it is considered crazy.
- 8) These people don't need any more attention and to give it to them is irresponsible.

You've created a show that has raked New Jersey over the coals, and we in Jersey have more pride and class than this. Now, we're putting our foot down and making a demand. Take this show off the air, now.

Sincerely,

N.J. Resident & Proud supporter of JerseyDoesntStink.com
