

Dear MTV Networks,

It's time to take "Jersey Shore" off the air. The stereotypes you're promoting have nothing to do with New Jersey and are creating a monster that must be stopped. Here are a few reasons why you should yank "Jersey Shore" off the air:

- The next season's not even set in Jersey.
- Most of the cast is from New York. These are the people tainting our coast.
- Let's face it, the show is the Real World. Just make it the Real World.
- Men's hair products are overrunning the shampoo aisles.
- There are "Snooki Was Here" T-shirts.
- All the hotel towels are destroyed because of fake tanning products.
- You're ruining our childhood memories by invading our beaches.
- We have Jersey Shore copycats that are 10 times worse.

Jersey doesn't like your show, Jersey doesn't act like your show, and Jersey doesn't want your show to continue. For the love of Jersey, take this show off the air right now.

Sincerely,

N.J. Resident & Proud supporter of JerseyDoesntStink.com
